EVENT OVERVIEW

About the program

This free program, hosted by the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta's head office and branches, provides a forum for school administrators and educators to explore current economic and financial topics that help them translate theory into real-world lessons for their students.

The evening's presentation and discussion will feature Michael Chriszt, an assistant vice president at the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta.

Chriszt's presentation will cover

- general economic concepts about labor markets and their connection to economic activity
- how the current recession has affected American workers
- the Federal Reserve's actions to support the economy

About the speaker

Michael Chriszt is an assistant vice president in the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta's research department. He is responsible for the Regional Economic Information Network (REIN) that supports the bank's monetary policy role. Previously he was the director of international and regional analysis. His research interests include international economic policy, the European Monetary Union, and the overseas impact of U.S. monetary policy.
